Sigma signs long term PharmX agreement

Corum Group Limited (ASX:COO) is pleased to announce that Sigma Healthcare Limited, the operator of Australia's largest pharmacy network (ASX:SIG) has signed a long term deal for its wholesale business in Australia to continue to utilise the PharmX platform.

The agreement which is effective from 1 April 2022 is for an initial term of 5 years with a rolling term for a further 3 years. This contract renewal provides security of revenue from one of PharmX's largest customers for the next 5-7 years.

Jeff Sells, Chief Commercial Officer, Sigma Healthcare commented: "PharmX is a vital part of the industry infrastructure and we look forward to working with them as they continue to enhance both the capability and functionality of the platform."

Nick England, Executive Chairman Corum said that it was an important development for both parties. He said "We view this as an endorsement of the recent investments we have made in PharmX and our development plans going forward. In addition to signing the agreements with wholesalers Symbion and ProPharma as previously announced, this agreement further cements PharmX's position as the leading gateway linking pharmacies to wholesalers and suppliers. It provides Corum Group security to continue investing to develop innovative services on the platform"
